Notice of Revocation of Arabian Net Information Service W.L.L. Telecommunications Licenses

On 21 December 2011, the Telecommunications Regulatory Authority (“the Authority”) of the Kingdom of Bahrain received a request from Arabian Net Information Service W.L.L. (“ANIS”) to revoke its Individual International Telecommunications Services License, Internet Services Provider Class License and Value Added Services Class License (“the Licenses”) as it is currently under liquidation.

Should any person object to the revocation, please notify the Authority in writing with justified reasons not later than 16 January 2012.

If no comments are received not later than 16 January 2012, the Authority will deem the Licenses to be cancelled and as such ANIS may no longer offer Telecommunications services under the Licenses after this date.
